

ABOUT SKEDULO

Building Tools to Empower the Deskless Workforce

Skedulo creates cloud-based software to allow any company in any industry to schedule, manage, engage, and analyze their deskless workforce.

Skedulo is on a mission to support the 2.7 billion people in the world—and the companies that employ them—who do not work at a desk every day. Our global teams are collaborative, ambitious, innovative, and passionate about helping our customers to realize their fullest potential by enabling their mobile workforces.

OUR PLATFORM

The world's first platform for the deskless workforce

In today's world, deskless workers outnumber desk-based workers four-to-one. Yet these workers have been overlooked by technology providers and are still largely organized using paper, spreadsheets, and substandard technology.

That's why we're building The Deskless Productivity Cloud, the powerful, scalable, and flexible technology platform to help organizations manage their mobile workforces, engage employees, and delight their customers.
